Featured in the Timeline, Volume I. ISBN 0-9761405-0-0

Bourland Papers: 200 Civil War era documents transcribed and put into a timeline of James Bourland's (1801-1879) life, including 43 letters to and from Gen. H.E. McCulloch that should be in the Official Record. In order to interpret these 200 hard-to-read documents, it was necessary to transcribe the 225 militia listings and the brigade correspondence of the seven militia brigades of North Texas.

Brush Battalion, most were deserters and draft-dodgers, who hid in the thickets of north Texas. They were offered amnesty if they would enroll in the Confederate Army — 480 enlisted and were stationed at Oxford Lake, Collin Co TX. Where are the minutes of the Brush Battalion meeting on Dec. 12, 1863 in Bonham TX? (30 pp.)

Whitehead, Garvin County, OK was probably the site of an Aug. 26, 1842 meeting initiated by Caddo Red Bear in a letter to R.M. Jones. Attendees were Buloxies, Caddos, Ionies and Nadaroes plus 10 Texans: J. Bourland, J.A. Caldwell, H. Coffee, J. Durst, J. Gamble, W.R. Gray, S. Love, F.R. Lubbock, T.F. Smith, E.A. Stroud and L.Williams. (2 pp.)

Comanche and Kiowa Raids into Texas from Indian Territory includes contemporaneous accounts of 1863, 1864, 1866, and 1868 events. (16 pp.)

1846 Bounty Hunt on Pennington Creek, I.T. Murder and counterfeiting suspect, Alonzo Pennington of Christian Co KY, was hiding near now Tishomingo, Johnston Co OK when he was captured by the Bourland brothers of Ballard Co KY and Doaksville, I.T. (19 pp.)

Cherokeetown, near now Pauls Valley, Garvin County OK, 1839 until 1907, settled by Cherokee Ridgeites from now Cherokee County, TX.

300,000 Cattle Stolen or levied from the residents of Indian Territory to feed Union and Confederate armies in the East caused massive destitution and near starvation. Between April 1865 and August 1867, 4,000 horses and 31,000 cattle were stolen from North Texas. (15 pp.)

Quantrill, includes a listing of the men who rode with him such as Jesse James, Frank James, and Cole Younger. (23 pp.)

1841 Battle of Village Creek, now Arlington TX, includes Bourland's Ranging Company of 78 men. (14 pp.)

Battle of Elm Creek, Young County, Texas, Oct. 1864. Comanche Buffalo Hump's and Kiowa Satanka's men raided the Elm Creek area. Includes Buck Barry's version of the events plus Negro Britt Johnson's search for his captured family. (9 pp.)

Tonkawa Massacre of 142 people at Anadarko, I.T. in Oct. 1862. Tonkawas Placido and Castile are featured. (5 pp.)

Gunfight in Jack County, TX. CSA Capt. J.S. Moore's men got into a gunfight on Sep 3, 1864 with deserters near A.H. Hancock's home. Unionists were: C. Adare, E. Cole, E. Brawner and T.W. Williams. Moore's men: P.P. Brown, A. Coker, T.R. Simpson and D.S. Howell. (3 pp.)

106 Prisoners. Deserters of Gen. Stand Watie's, Col. Bourland's and Col. W.B. Sims' Regiments, were arrested in Apr 1865, and recovered 150 recently stolen horses.

Militia of North Texas of 1838, 1842, 1845, 1858, and 1859.

225 Militia Listings of seven militia brigades of North Texas, comprised of the original records of 34 counties, plus the correspondence of the seven brigades. (219 pp.)

Brigade Correspondence of these seven North Texas Militia Brigades is a significant resource for the study of Indian Territory during the Civil War era. (81 pp transcribed from the original records of 34 counties).

Brush Battalion, a listing of 480 men enlisted in the Confederate Army. (4 pp.)

Rush Creek Treaty signed on Aug. 21, 1858 in a Wichita Village on Rush Creek, 5 miles S.E. of now Rush Springs, OK by Comanche Chief Buffalo Hump, Wichita Chief Lasadovah, and Lt. J.E. Powell of Fort Arbuckle only to have the treaty broken on Sep 30, 1858 when Capt. E. Van Dorn's U.S. Cavalry attack the Comanches at the Wichita Village. Death toll was 75. (2 pp.)

Brig-Gen. Stand Watie's 1st Cherokee Regiment was attached to Col. Bourland's Regt. (8 pp, a listing).

Organization Charts of the Texas State Troops and the Confederate Troops of Indian Territory and North Texas. (8 pp.)

Tonkawa Massacre Survivors: 1874, 1880, and 1891 listings. (8 pp, listings.)

Camp Napoleon Compact of May 26, 1865 in now Verden, Grady County OK: a meeting of 5,000 to 7,000 Indians representing 20 Plains and slave-owning tribes plus Brig-Gen. J.W. Throckmorton and 500 of his Texas State Troops.

Military Posts and Hideouts in Indian Territory. (162 entries in 8 pp.)

Indictment of Bourland in a scurrilous Oct. 15, 1864 a bill-of-particulars smeared Bourland in a proposed court martial -- never mind that it was never filed in any court. Careless historians have stated that 5 of Bourland's captains signed this document, which is not true since all 8 pages, including the 28 signatures, are in the same handwriting. Subsequently, Bourland represented the North Texas Sub-District in the Jun 2, 1865 Confederate surrender in Galveston, TX. (4 pp.)

Buffalo Soldiers were at Fort Arbuckle as part of the 10th U.S. Cavalry organized August 1866.

Maps. (4 maps, 3 of Indian Territory).
